

Seminar Invitation

Balancing Access and Protection in Healthcare

Join our privacy experts, Sandy Donaldson and Amy Bishop, for an informative session that will explore the critical aspects of managing personal and sensitive information in the healthcare sector. This session is designed specifically for aged care providers who need to navigate the complex landscape of privacy and data security.

During this seminar, you will gain valuable insights and practical advice to ensure your organisation is compliant and prepared to protect the personal information of the people you care for. Topics of discussion will include:

- Australian Privacy Principles
- Maintaining security of personal information
- Handling sensitive information
- Obtaining consent and determining who can consent
- Sharing or transferring data containing personal or confidential information
- Dealing with data breaches

Don't miss this opportunity to enhance your knowledge and safeguard your organisation.

We look forward to you joining us.
